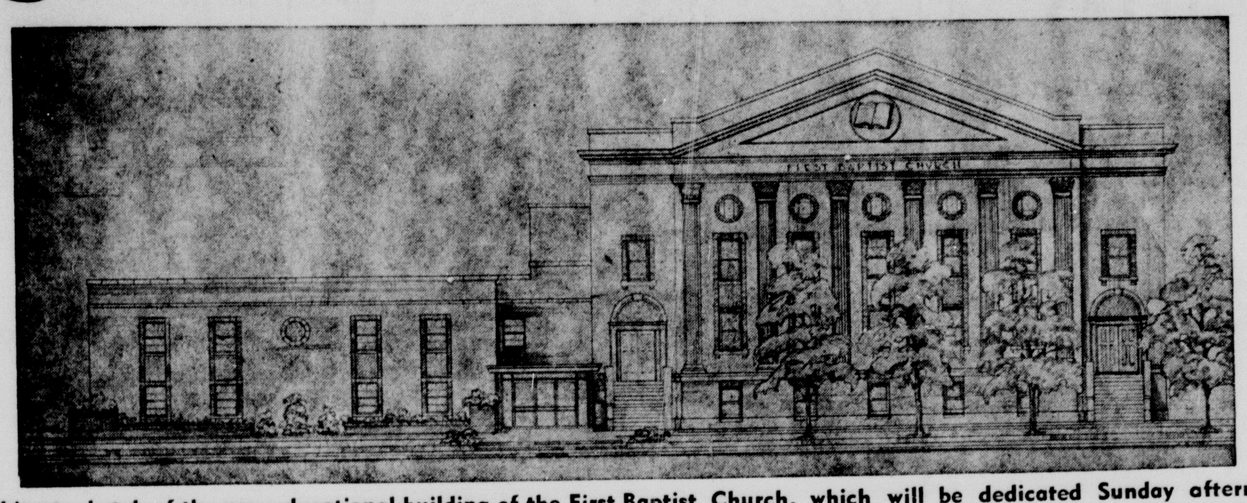
Building Dedication Sunday Afternoon



Architects sketch of the new educational building of the First Baptist Church, which will be dedicated Sunday afternoon.

First Baptist Church Education Unit Ready for Use After Six Months

Dedication services for the new educational building of the First Baptist Church are scheduled Sunday afternoon. "We expect to have more than 800 people present in Sunday School when we dedicate our new building," the Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the church, said. The $128,743 structure was started June 13, 1955. The total cost of remodeling of the old plant, furnishings for the buildings, and construction of the new building will be approximately $150,000.

In the old portion of the church, a wall and folding partition definitely divided the front from the back auditorium, giving the appearance of two separate rooms.

The remodeling includes the removal of this partition. It gives the auditorium a seating capacity of 1,100, including the seating space in the balcony, and makes it appear as one large auditorium.

The back part has been given an indirect lighting system to match that of the front auditorium.

The Rev. Atkinson pointed out many advantages of the new education building. The doors open on street level and there is a long, wide foyer that leads to an elevator.

People in wheel chairs who wish to attend church will find it more convenient to do so.

Arrangements have been made with the city to provide a no-parking zone at the front entrance of the new building on Sunday morning. Drivers will be permitted to discharge passengers in this zone before parking elsewhere.

The building also offers many other convenient features. It can care adequately for the newly-created departments which were necessary because of overcrowded conditions in the old building, the pastor said.

Where there were six nurseries, there will be seven. There will also be two beginner departments, two primary departments, two junior departments, two intermediate departments, three young people departments, and three adult departments.

Formerly these 21 departments were crowded into 14 departments. The church's total Sunday School enrollment of 1,002 will now have more room to carry on its work.

On the second floor it opens up three assembly rooms and 24 classrooms. It will be furnished with six new Everett pianos and natural-finished oak chairs and tables.

Ceilings of the new building are of acoustical tile and the floors are of azrock tile-tex. Down the entry foyer are planters and shrubs to give an outside atmosphere with inside comfort.

The foyer roof is supported with ornamental iron columns and solid glass doors are at the entry. Floors of the foyer are of checkered paver brick.

The building is equipped with central heating and refrigerated air conditioning.

The lower floor of the new building has wainscoting of roman brick and the masonry walls above are painted rose-beige. The upstairs walls are eye-rest green, with natural-finished, birch-paneled wainscoting.

From the sidewalk outside there is the appearance of brick, tinted glass windows, and modern solid glass doors.

Programs for the dedication Sunday have already been printed. Everyone is invited to take part in the dedicatory service at 2:30 Sunday afternoon.

Open house for the new addition is scheduled for 3:15 to 5 p. m. Sunday. By this time the members of the church will be in their new departments in the recently completed education building.

Both the Sunday morning and evening sermons will be delivered by the Rev. Howard Bramlette. The Rev. Bramlette is the Assistant Student Director of the State of Texas.

He is the former Student Director of the Baptist Student Center at West Texas State College.

March of Dimes Campaign Starts

The 1956 March of Dimes campaign begins in Randall County this week with Joe Gibson as county chairman.

The county campaign will be tied in with the telethon to be staged on KFDA-TV in Amarillo. A talent contest is planned here to help provide entertainers for the telethon. Emmitt Smith is in charge of coordinating with the telethon.

Gibson said mailers will be sent out this week and collection boxes will be put around town in stores.

Boxers Working Toward Tourney

A dozen Canyon boxers are in training for the coming Golden Gloves Tournaments, with daily workouts in the West Texas State fieldhouse.

They are being coached by Pat Britain, who has invited any boy interested in boxing to start working out now. The fieldhouse is open for the boxers from 7 to 9 p. m. each day.

Already working are Perry Slagle, 200 pounds, high school division; T. B. Baca, 135, high school; Don Britain, 147, high school; Ray Griffin, 135, open; Glen Rusk, 126, novice; Wilford Taylor, 126, high school; Zeke Clements, 90, novice; Ross Bonds, 112, novice; C. B. Stone, 155, high school; Benny Baca, 75, novice; Herman Betke, 206, open; and Elmer Clements, 185.

Coach Britain said the team has a heavy bag, a speed bag, necessary ropes, a set of gloves and speed bag gloves and head gears. Needed are trunks and shoes.

The Canyon boxers will enter the district tournament in Plainview next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. They will also enter the regional tournament in Amarillo at a later date.

Wilson Announces For Commissioner

William A. (Bill) Wilson has announced his candidacy for Randall County Commissioner, Precinct 1. In announcing, Wilson made the following statement:

"I have lived in Precinct 1, on my farm about four miles east of Canyon, for the past nine years, having moved here from Amarillo in 1946. During that time I have been employed by the Randall County Sheriff's office for 1½ years.

"My wife and I have selected Canyon and Randall County as our permanent home, and I wish to serve the people of the county as best I can.

"I feel that as commissioner of Precinct 1, I can best serve my community—my friends and my neighbors. I will devote all of my time to the requirements of this office and the people of my community.

"I am resigning my position with the sheriff's department to run for this office. During my employment by the county, I have been in a position to understand the financial and tax problems it has.

"I was in the U. S. Navy for 3½ years during World War II, and served 1½ years in the European Theater. Before moving to Canyon, I was employed for six years by the City of Amarillo.

"My wife and I have three children, two of whom are attending schools in Canyon. I am 35 years old.

"I realize that it may become impossible for me to personally contact each voter of the precinct, but I shall see as many of you as is humanly possible. I wish to take this opportunity to earnestly solicit your support as well as your vote in the coming Democratic primary."

L. H. (Speck) Benham, who was injured in a truck accident Dec. 20, is now home and improving nicely.

E-Way Land Buying Continues

Randall County continued acquiring right-of-way for the Canyon-Amarillo expressway during the holidays, with six parcels purchased immediately following Christmas.

The commissioners ordered a condemnation suit filed against Taylor and Sons Country Store, because the appraisers had been unable to come to an agreement as to the price to be paid for the Taylor land. In a meeting Tuesday afternoon, the commissioners ordered that the members of the jury of view be appointed as negotiations continued with the Taylors.

The county's agents, Lanham Nelson and A. C. Youngblood, are to meet next Tuesday with a representative of the Taylor interests to attempt settlement again. Friday morning, the Taylors will meet with the commissioners to suggest possible members for the jury of view.

The jury will be appointed by County Judge Roy Joe Stevens. Judge Stevens said yesterday he would give serious consideration to anyone that the Taylors and the commissioners could agree upon.

Last Friday the commissioners approved settlements offered six landowners between Canyon and Amarillo.

Those settlements approved were with E. P. Deavours for the cafe and service station at Hollywood, V. K. McCaskill, E. B. Burgess, Grady Hazlewood, Joe V. Hales and John W. Hazelwood.

Youngblood told the court last Friday that all but two of the tracts needed for the right of way to Happy have been purchased or agreed upon. There are 39 tracts south of Canyon.

Negotiations are continuing with Arch Hunsley for his property north of Canyon, although a letter giving notice of intent to file condemnation proceedings was sent to Hunsley before Christmas by order of the commissioners court.

In other action taken by the court in the meeting yesterday, the commissioners agreed to share in paving a portion of one street in Pioneer Estates, located east of the city on the Palo Duro highway.

The commissioners agreed to share in one-third of the cost of paving Conner Lane, the main street of the addition. The street ties on to Fifth Avenue and goes east. The commissioners noted that they would share in half the cost of paving a 20-foot strip, as has been their policy in the past.

Cowboys Tieup Eagles 44-42

The Canyon Eagles hustled up a respectable lead early in the game, but finally lost out to the Happy Cowboys by a score of 44-42 in the Canyon High gym last night.

Happy, considered one of the best Class A teams in the area, won on two free shots. Both teams had 17 field goals to their credit at the end of the game, while Happy had 10 free points and Canyon eight.

Eagle Coach Lynn Hulsey said the team "looked the best they have all year." He said they should be complimented on their hustle and spirit.

Eagle Melvin Cunningham and Cowboy Poage were tied for high point man with 14 each. Cunningham's points were from seven field goals and Poage's from six field goals and two foul shots.

Charles Neblett was second in scoring with 11 points from three goals and five free shots.

Cunningham hit seven out of 17 shots from the floor for 42 per cent, Neblett hit three out of nine for 33 per cent, Jon Cross three out of three for 100 per cent, A. L. Pruett two out of four for 50 per cent, Leonard Miller one out of three for 33 per cent and George Snapp one out of 10 for 10 per cent.

The entire team shot 38 per cent from the floor. The team missed nine free throws while making eight.

The next Eagle game will be Friday night with Tulia there. Saturday night, the high school team will meet Borger in the Canyon High Gym with both A and B games scheduled. Action will begin at 6:30 p. m.

75 Blocks To Be Paved in City

The number of paved blocks in Canyon will be raised by a third this spring as a result of the paving program offered by the city during the fall.

Dudley Bayne, city secretary, said that 75 blocks of paving had been contracted for at the end of the deadline Saturday. The city will prepare the base for the new paving during the winter months, and the topping will be applied in the spring.

Bayne said the 75 blocks represents about a third of the number already paved in the city. He said most of the contracts came in on the last day.

Grand Jury Gives Report of Work

The September Term Randall County Grand Jury called for air conditioning, a new jail and complimented law enforcement agencies in its report at the end of the term last Friday.

The report reads:

"After much study and due considerations we wish to make the following comments and recommendations:

"1. Law Enforcement Personnel:

"We wish to compliment the law enforcement facilities for the excellent job they have been doing. We wish to thank the Amarillo Police Department for the excellent co-operation they have been extending the law enforcement officers of Randall County and the City of Canyon.

"2. Facilities for Caring for Prisoners:

"We find that the conditions still exist in regard to taking care of prisoners of Randall County, but at the same time the situation is recognized by the County Commissioners and the study of needs and plans for correcting this condition is being gone into by said Commissioners Court.

"3. Air Conditioning the Jury Room:

"We would like to recommend that Randall County Commissioners consider the need of air conditioning or proper ventilation of the Jury Room.

"4. In Regard to Cases Passed to us from the Previous Grand Jury:

"1. The case of A. B. Duncan:

"This Grand Jury has considered all of the charges growing out of the confession made by A. B. Duncan, and has come to the conclusion that it will be to the best interest of all concerned if no further bills are returned and no further action is taken with reference to Mr. Duncan's case so long as he lives up to the terms of the probation which he was placed under by the District Court of Randall County.

"2. The case of Billy Jack Murrel:

"We understand that he has been given adult probation in Deaf Smith County. No further action has been taken by this Grand Jury.

"3. The case of Wayne Griffin, charged with assault to kill:

"Evidence was studied by this Grand Jury and due to restitution being made to the complaining witness satisfactory to him, no action was taken.

"4. The case of Peggy Crowley.

"In regard to the charge against Peggy Crowley, due to the inability to subpoena the complaining witness, no action was taken.

"5. The following case has been considered and is passed to the next grand jury for action: The case of Dran Brazil:

"We are passing this case to the incoming Grand Jury due to the fact that we are unable to secure necessary witnesses."

The report was signed by Jack R. C. Vincent as foreman and Newton Crain as clerk.

Mrs. Ruby Hunt Buried at Claude

Funeral services for Mrs. Ruby Hunt of Claude, sister of John Lill of Canyon, were to be conducted this afternoon in the Claude Baptist Church by the Rev. Ford A. Ellis, pastor of the North Amarillo Christian Church.

Burial was to be in the Claude cemetery.

Mrs. Hunt died at 8:30 p. m. Monday in Northwest Texas Hospital.

Others surviving include her husband, two sons, two daughters, another brother, three sisters and eight grandchildren.

Grand Jury Cites Three Felonies

Three indictments were returned by the September Term Randall County Grand Jury during its final session Friday.

Johnny Walter Helms, 20, of Amarillo, was indicted for statutory rape in connection with an alleged attack Dec. 26 on a 14-year-old Amarillo girl.

William Lanham, 30, and Robert M. Warner, 41, both of Lamar, Colo., were indicted for theft over $50 in connection with the theft of a saddle from the James Jennings farm east of Canyon Nov. 27.

Rites Conducted For Burt Newlin

Final rites for Burt Newlin, 58, of Borger, father of Mrs. Jack Walker of Canyon, were to be conducted this morning in Amarillo by Dr. Lynn B. Rankin, assistant pastor of the Amarillo First Presbyterian Church.

Burial was to be in Llano Cemetery.

Mr. Newlin died at 6:45 p. m. Sunday in Temple.

Others surviving include his wife, another daughter and a sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bellah and children spent New Years weekend in Dallas visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Staples.

Foster, Miller Take Census Now

The annual school census for the Canyon Independent School District began this week with Tax Collector Lee Foster and W. E. Miller doing the counting.

Foster said every child over six and under 18 must be enumerated in the census, even if the child attends school in another district while living in the Canyon district.

He said that he and Miller would try to contact every home in the district, but those parents who have not been approached by the census takers in the near future should call the tax office.

The state pays tuition for each school-age child living in the district at the time of the census.

County To Raise Help to Firemen

The Canyon Volunteer Fire Department will be paid $1 per fireman by the county for runs outside the city limits.

At a meeting Friday, the commissioners agreed to make the payment to help defray costs of the department. At present, the city pays the department $1 a man for fires inside the city and for drills attended.

The county will pay only for those firemen who actually attend fires, and will not pay anything for drills attended.

Jack Jennings, department secretary, said that an average of 20 firemen go on the calls to the country. During the past year, 22 of the 38 calls were outside the city limits.

One of the trucks used by the department was purchased by the county, and the commissioners have been paying $10 per month to the department.

All money paid to the department goes toward upkeep and purchasing of new equipment. In the past year, the department has obtained a radio-equipped pickup truck and two smokemasks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harter of Walnut Creek, Calif., left Tuesday after a month's visit, with relatives and friends in Canyon and other parts of Texas. The Christmas holidays were spent in St. Louis, Mo., with the David Sharman family. On leaving, the Harters said that they wished they had another month to spend here in order to see those they missed seeing.

First 1956 County Highway Fatality Kills Missouri Woman on January 1

A Missouri woman, on the way home from a vacation trip to California, was killed in the first traffic fatality in 1956 for Randall County and the Panhandle when her car overturned west of Umbarger Sunday.

Injured in the wreck were her husband and her son, who are hospitalized in Neblett Hospital. They are George Orrell, 53, and Noel Orrell, 14.

Funeral services for Mrs. Marie Ann Orrell, 48, will be conducted Friday in her hometown of Ferguson, Mo.

Investigating officers said the family was traveling east on Highway 60 about three miles west of Umbarger when the car overturned about 2:15 p. m. The officers said witnesses told them it appeared that the driver went to sleep and the car left the highway and overturned.

Funeral arrangements were announced here by Griggs-Warren Funeral Home.

Year's Building Tops 1 Million

Canyon building permits for 1955 ran well over $1 million with the addition of $16,100 during November.

The total for the year was $1,057,335.

Permits issued in December were:

G. J. Barker, 401 Sixth Avenue, addition, $800, Dec. 8.

Ted Kelly, 2104 Second Avenue, addition, $1,500, Dec. 19.

J. M. Daugherty, 2505 Ninth Avenue, residence, $10,000, Dec. 20.

L. A. Cooper, 704 22nd, apartment, $800, Dec. 27.

Keith Poole Farm and Ranch, 13th and Highway 60, poultry house, $3,000, Dec. 28.

Services Held For Mrs. Arnold

Funeral services for Mrs. Maude Wesley Arnold were conducted Friday afternoon in Griggs-Warren Funeral Chapel by Clint Malone, assisted by the Rev. A. J. Pettit.

Burial was in the Wayside Cemetery.

Mrs. Arnold, 71, died Thursday morning in the home of a son, Lee Wesley, in Plainview. She was born Jan. 27, 1884, in Tarrant County, Texas.

Mrs. Arnold was a member of the First Baptist Church in Canyon.

In addition to her son in Plainview, survivors include two daughters, Mrs. R. L. Rogers, Canyon, and Mrs. Velma Eudey, Shamrock; three other sons, Luther Wesley, Canyon, Bill Wesley, Ceyton, Colo., and J. H. Wesley, Silverton; a sister, Mrs. Tressa Rogers, Patterson, Calif.; 36 grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren.

Norris Services Held Saturday

Final rites for Sandy Theodore Norris were conducted Saturday afternoon in Griggs-Warren Funeral Chapel by the Rev. Lester L. Hill, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Pallbearers were Roy Cheatham, Jack Thomas of Amarillo, Dan Sanders, Guy Harp, Thomas Foster and Ray Campbell. Burial was in the Rosehill Cemetery in Tulia.

Mr. Norris, 59, died Thursday at 4:50 a. m. in his home in Amarillo. He was born Aug. 17, 1896, in Marion, Illinois.

Mr. Norris was a paint contractor and a member of the Painter's Local Union No. 544. He was a veteran of World Wars I and II.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ruby Norris; two brothers, John Norris, Marion, Ill., and M. E. Norris, Kansas City, Mo.; and a sister, Mrs. Jake Anderson, Marion.

McCormick Seeks Commission Post

B. E. (Bailie) McCormick has announced his candidacy for Randall County Commissioner, Precinct 1. In announcing, McCormick made the following statement:

"I, B. E. (Bailie) McCormick, wish to take this means of announcing my candidacy for County Commissioner, Precinct 1, Randall County. Having lived and farmed in Randall County for the past 47 years and having received all my education in the Canyon school system and West Texas State College and having always tried to inform myself as to the needs of our town, schools and county, I feel qualified and justified in seeking such position.

"My experience for near two terms on the school board of our local school system gives me a better understanding of our tax structure as well as the conditions of the taxpayers of this Precinct; and if elected, my time will be devoted to an impartial and economical use of the taxpayers' money for the good of this Precinct 1.

"It is my intention to see each voter of this Precinct in connection with my candidacy and as to their views as to the precinct's needs but if I should fail to see any of the voters, will you please accept this as a solicitation for your vote."

Guests in the W. G. Boston home for New Year's dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Al Baum of Whiteboro, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boston of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Boston and Eugene of Canyon.

Collinsworth Home Gutted by Fire

Canyon suffered the first fire loss in nine months Tuesday afternoon when a blaze of undetermined origin gutted a two-story home owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Collinsworth.

The fire was discovered by Tom Dorman, a WTSC employe who lives in the Collinsworth home. Mr. and Mrs. Collinsworth were both at work in Amarillo where they operate a drive in cafe.

Early arrival of firemen prevented the fire from spreading to other buildings, and several West Texas students attracted by the blaze helped remove furniture and carpets from the house.

Collinsworth estimated the loss at between $5,000 and $8,000.

The last fire loss in Canyon was the Fred Sorgee home on March 25, 1955.

EDITORIAL

Views and Comments

The Republican News Clipsheet, published by the Republican National Committee, brags that Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell predicts 74 million jobs by 1965 (I presume the prediction will hold true only if the GOP'ers remain in power) and that he feels that President Eisenhower is directly responsible for the present state of prosperity; Gabriel Hauge, administrative assistant to the president, thinks the present boom will continue through the foreseeable future; that individual income after taxes averages $1,643 per person; and that employment hit its highest mark in U. S. history in November, some 64.8 million jobs.

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks has predicted a Republican landslide victory next November, and is asking, "Why change?"

And, it says in an editorial, that Ezra Taft Benson is right, the Democrats are wrong, and implies that farmers don't know what's going on. I don't know why they bothered to call the editorial an editorial, since the whole paper is an editorial.

It blames the farm problem on the Democrats who, it says, "handed us this neat package of carefully fused bombs."

The annual Kiplinger Washington Letter on population was made available for publication recently. Usually the letters are not given for publication. From the letter are these bits of information.

The birth rate is staying on the high plateau of the past nine years and promises to run on and on. During 1955 the rate was 25 babies per thousand population. The reasons for the high birth rate are the present prosperity and it's again the "style" to have larger families.

City mothers are averaging two children each, while rural mothers are averaging three. To brighten the birth picture, there were 1.5 million marriages last year, and there would have been more if there had been more people of the right age.

There are 109 men for every 100 women of marriage ages—if everyone was spread out equally there'd be a good chance for every woman to be married. But there are 152 single men for every 100 single women on the farms, so that's the place to go looking for a man.

Divorces are running about one for every four marriages, and three out of four divorcees remarry.

Women are living six years longer than men on the average, and women are about three years younger than their husbands. With the difference in life expectancies for married couples, 13 per cent of women are widows while only 4 per cent of men are widowers. Since most men leave their fortunes to their widows, it's easy to see that widows have much of the nation's wealth.

In 1950 some 8.7 million people had incomes between $5,000 and $10,000. Last year there were 15.7 million persons with those incomes, an increase of 80 per cent. There has been a 90 per cent increase in the number of people with incomes over $10,000, and the percentage of persons with incomes less than $5,000 has shrunk from 77 to 61, although there are still 30 million persons on the list.

The letter predicts a continuing shift in markets, with most folks requiring higher standards—things like bigger houses, better locations and home appliances and finer automobiles.

There's to be a building boom in the '60's, because of the high birth rate of recent years and the greater number of people available for marriage. Running along with the high birth rate is the booger-bear of school enrollment, especially 10 years from now. There'll be 118 per cent more children in school than there are now. So, we'll need 600,000 more classrooms and 200,000 more teachers.

With all the growth, it's obvious that the main problem will be money, "which means taxes." The total cost of schools now is $8 to $10 billion a year, and the cost in the next 10 years may be double. So, more money must come from somewhere.

The taxes will be mostly property taxes. Nearly 45 per cent of all property taxes now collected go to schools. The letter says there will be higher local taxes, higher property assessments and fewer exemptions.

On the college level, tuition doesn't pay the bills and endowments bring inadequate returns. Ford Foundation's 300 million dollars was only a drop in the bucket, as colleges now need 100 million a year from outside sources and will need about 800 million a year for the next 10 years.

The vast expenditures needed for schools pays off in the long run. The average elementary school graduate will earn $116,000 in a lifetime; high school graduate, $165,000; and the college graduate, $268,000. A college education cost an average $9,000.

There are 21 million women working now—35 per cent of the total female population. Before World War II, the average was 27 per cent. More married women are working. Thirty per cent of the married women have jobs, twice as many as in 1940. Women's pay has risen less than men's pay, however, partly because many women work on a part-time or intermittent basis.

The U. S. population is moving more. Called internal migration, the shifting has been a little less each year since the end of the war, but it has been a big shift. Last year, five million persons moved from one state to another.

The farm population is still shrinking along with the total farm income. It is down from 30.5 million in 1940 to 22 million in 1955. In 1910, one-third of the population was on the farm, now only one-seventh is there.

Negro population is holding its own. There are more Negro births, but the death rate is higher, too.

Ten years from now there will be more young people because of the higher birth rate, but there will also be more oldsters because people are living longer.

The population of the United States is now 167 million. In five years it will be 178 million; in 10, 190 million; in 20, more than 221 million.

There are more births in August and September than any other months, but scientists say they don't know why.

The letter concludes:

"That's dynamic growth, the real thing, from people themselves. It's more than physical growth . . . it's a demonstration of vigor of spirit. Growing pains, yes . . . new problems, yes . . . but also confidence and zest."

That's the way two agencies feel about the state of the nation. The Republican Party feels that the present prosperity and possible future wellbeing comes because the Republican Party is in power, and comes in spite of being handed "bombs" by the Democrats.

The Kipplinger Washington Agency feels the good times and the rosy future comes because of the people, themselves.

I vote for the people.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

Col. Julien C. Hyer, past president of Lions International, is a fine after-dinner speaker, a clever toastmaster, whose quick wit is always equal to the situation—except on one occasion. And his Waterloo was inflicted by a most unlikely individual.

The scene was Puebla, known as "the city of the angels" because, the people of Mexico say, it is so beautiful that men alone could not have built it—no, the angels must have aided.

Fifty of us, members of a Lions good will trip, were there; and after a wonderful luncheon, we strolled over to see the magnificent cathedral, with Hyer at the head of the group, pointing out objects of interest and discoursing upon them as we were on our way. But it was siesta time and the cathedral was not open.

We waited in the park across the street and Colonel Hyer was never more eloquent and we were all listening intently. He happened to look around and there was a Mexican serape vendor, silently displaying a serape.

"No, no," said Hyer and resumed his remarks. A little later, he looked around and the vendor had not moved. Again Hyer said, "No, no," and continued to talk. But when he looked around a third time, the figure was still there.

The Colonel said, "Boyce, how do you say 'scram' in Spanish?"

Then the vendor spoke. In excellent English, he said, "If the senor does not wish to buy, he should say, 'No quiero comprar nada'." He again became silent and stood there.

Hastily, Hyer said, "No quiero comprar nada, senor!"

The native smiled, bowed and walked away.

All of us laughed, including the Colonel, who was so thrown offstride that he could not resume his remarks. He had been vanquished by a Mexican serape vendor.

A lawyer, making a long and complicated argument, asked, "Does Your Honor follow me?" The judge replied, "Yes—but if I thought I could find my way back, durned if I wouldn't try."

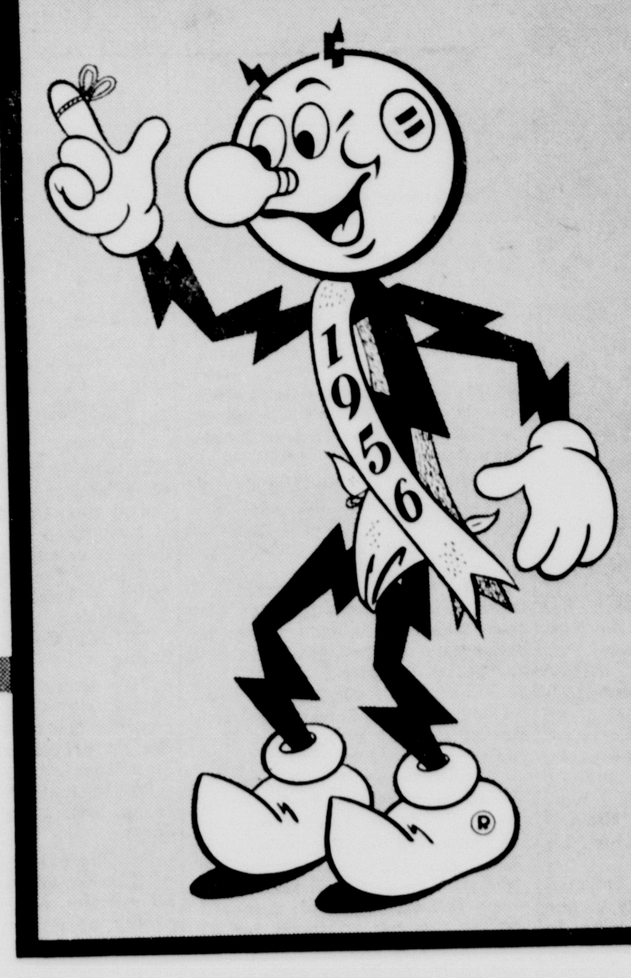
to live better . . .
live ELECTRICALLY
in 1956!!!



You'll enjoy your New Year's resolution . . . and it won't be a burden at all . . . if you resolve to live electrically this year, and forever after, as it says in the fairy stories.

And electric living is so pleasant, comfortable and economical, that, just like in the fairy stories, you'll think Reddy Kilowatt is prince charming, the beautiful princess, and the fairy godmother all rolled into one. Try him . . . and see.

ELECTRIC CLOTHES DRYING
"It's magic, no trick . . . electric drying's slick." Just switch the clothes from your automatic washer to your dryer, then set the control, that's all it takes for perfect drying anytime . . . everytime.

ELECTRIC COOKING
"Cool and carefree . . . white glove clean" . . . that's modern electric cooking. Perfect results with perfectly controlled cooking temperatures. Economical, too . . . about 2 cents a meal . . . plus the big savings from the cleanliness of electric cooking.

ELECTRIC WATER HEATING
"All the hot water you need . . . safely". Yes, the new modern quick recovery water heaters will give you all the hot water you need . . . whenever you need it. They'll give you complete safety, too, with heating elements that are completely enclosed. Electric water heating is matchless for speed and safety.

ELECTRIC FOOD FREEZING
"Freezer living is leisure living" . . . and economical living, too. Your electric home freezer lets you take advantage of every opportunity to save on your food budget. Keeps you ahead for unexpected guests.

THEY'LL HARVEST SURPLUSES—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, center, scoops grain from pickup truck of model threshing unit at Department of Agriculture in Washington shortly after announcing that the government will make available to overseas relief agencies as much surplus food as they can handle. Representatives of two of some 18 agencies which will share in the 1½-billion-pound distribution of various products are R. Norris Wilson, left, executive director of Church World Services and Msgr. Edward Swantrom, executive director, Catholic Relief Service.

Methods Shown For Squeeze Aid

COLLEGE STATION—Properly kept records, when thoroughly analyzed, can reveal to the poultryman weaknesses in management which may be costing money, says Bob Griffin, assistant extension poultry husbandman, and making the cost-price squeeze even tighter.

Of major importance to the commercial poultryman is the cost of flock replacements. Griffin says the cost should not exceed $2.35 per bird from the chick to the laying house.

A close check on brooder house and range mortality; feed consumed and labor required may show ways for cutting the replacement costs.

He advises the keeping of an accurate record on the number of birds culled and the culling date. Was the bird removed before she had a chance to make money?

The most profitable hens are those which are in production for a long period including the fall months.

Livability is another factor which influences the success of the poultry operation. A check of the records will reveal death losses and perhaps a cue as to causes. Sanitation in the poultry house is a must along with practices which will prevent disease outbreaks.

A vaccination program can be a big help in improving the health conditions of the laying flock.

What about the amount of feed required to produce a dozen of eggs? Griffin says a good goal is four and a half pounds of feed per dozen of eggs. If more feed is required, better check on feed wastage.

Raising the height of the feeders and putting less feed in the troughs will help prevent waste. The smaller hens use less feed for body maintenance and, therefore, require less feed for producing a dozen of eggs.

A study of the daily egg production record may show that sharp drops are due to housing troubles—improper ventilation for example. Labor required to produce a dozen eggs should not exceed five minutes. Finally, is the flock size large enough to be an economical unit? Records will help answer a lot of questions.

Make Farm Safety Part of Resolutions

COLLEGE STATION—Every one should have a lot of good reasons for including in their New Year's resolutions one or more on safety.

For, as the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee points out, nothing is more important to an individual or his family than making sure all will be protected from the needless losses which accidents can bring.

Safety, says the committee, can be just as complete as each citizen, wants to make it. Carelessness in the home, on the farm or highway can result in destruction of property and lives.

Start teaching the younger members of the family the rules of safe living. Be living examples, explains the committeemen, and develop a safety consciousness which will make safety a part of the daily life of each member of the family.

Safety is every person's business. Cold statistics can point out the losses in property and lives but until the desire of each person becomes strong enough to cause changes in habits and attitudes toward safety, statistics will continue to tell their grim story.

Remove the hazards from the farm and home which can cause accidents. Resolve to live in safety and security and do it by not taking chances nor exposing loved ones to dangers which can be corrected or never brought into the picture just by being careful.

Finally, says the state committee, your life and those of the family are literally in your hands. Join with friends and neighbors in 1956 and start in your community a program on safety. It might save your life.

Take a gander at what Oregon's forecasters are doing. They've turned geese loose in the forestry nurseries near Salem. The birds gobble up the weeds and foresters pray they'll leave the seedlings alone.

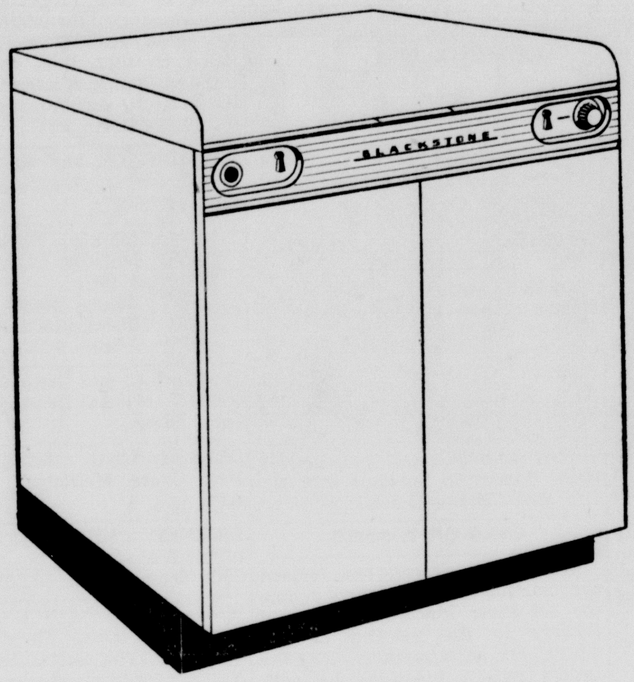
A gas clothes dryer makes every washday easy!

And . . . gas for drying my family's clothes costs approximately $2.60 a year!



Illustrated above is a Blackstone automatic Gas clothes dryer. This dryer is approved by the American Gas Association testing laboratories.

Save...Save...Save

Let the clean blue flame of natural gas dry your clothes. Stop carrying heavy bundles of clothes to the clothes lines. Stop the wear and tear on your clothes caused by whipping winds. The gentle tumble-action of an automatic Gas clothes dryer is easy on your clothes . . . and . . . it costs so very little to operate. The average family will spend approximately $2.60 a year for natural gas for drying clothes. See your gas appliance dealer the first thing tomorrow. Buy an automatic Gas clothes dryer . . . a dryer you know you can afford to use every day of the year.

COLLEGE STATION—The cost-price squeeze on agricultural producers is expected to be even tighter in 1956, says John G. McHaney, agricultural economist for the Texas Extension Service.

Farm income for 1955 is now 10 per cent under that for the year before and the trend downward is expected to continue into 1956.

On the other hand, points out McHaney, production costs for the farmer will remain high and some may increase.

Too, income from crops will be smaller because of reductions brought on by controls lower prices. Livestock receipts for 1956 could possibly equal those for 1955.

McHaney gives three main factors for the ever-widening gap between the national and farm income.

They are the very high rate of agricultural production and the large carryovers of farm products; a considerable drop in farm exports and the inflexibility of costs of production and marketing which have failed to decrease with the falling farm prices.

The economist expects farm mortgage debts to rise again in 1956. Continued high volume of real estate loans to refinance existing debts is expected and non-real estate debts too are expected to increase.

It could all add up to a decline in the liquid financial reserves of agriculturalists.

The international situation is classed as an unknown factor in the overall picture but one that could have tremendous influence. Watch it closely, advises McHaney.

Agricultural producers are advised to give more thought to the economic side of their operations. McHaney says falling farm prices have broke more producers than drouths or too much rain ever did.

Net income to farmers and ranchmen fluctuates considerably over a long period and these changes must be considered in planning both short and long time operations.

McHaney is sure that farm families should give more consideration to economic conditions. For as he put it, national and world economic forces are today shaping the prices which will prevail tomorrow, next year and in the next decade.

Agriculture, he concludes, has had its ups and downs and will continue to do so. Plans should be made which allow for these changes.

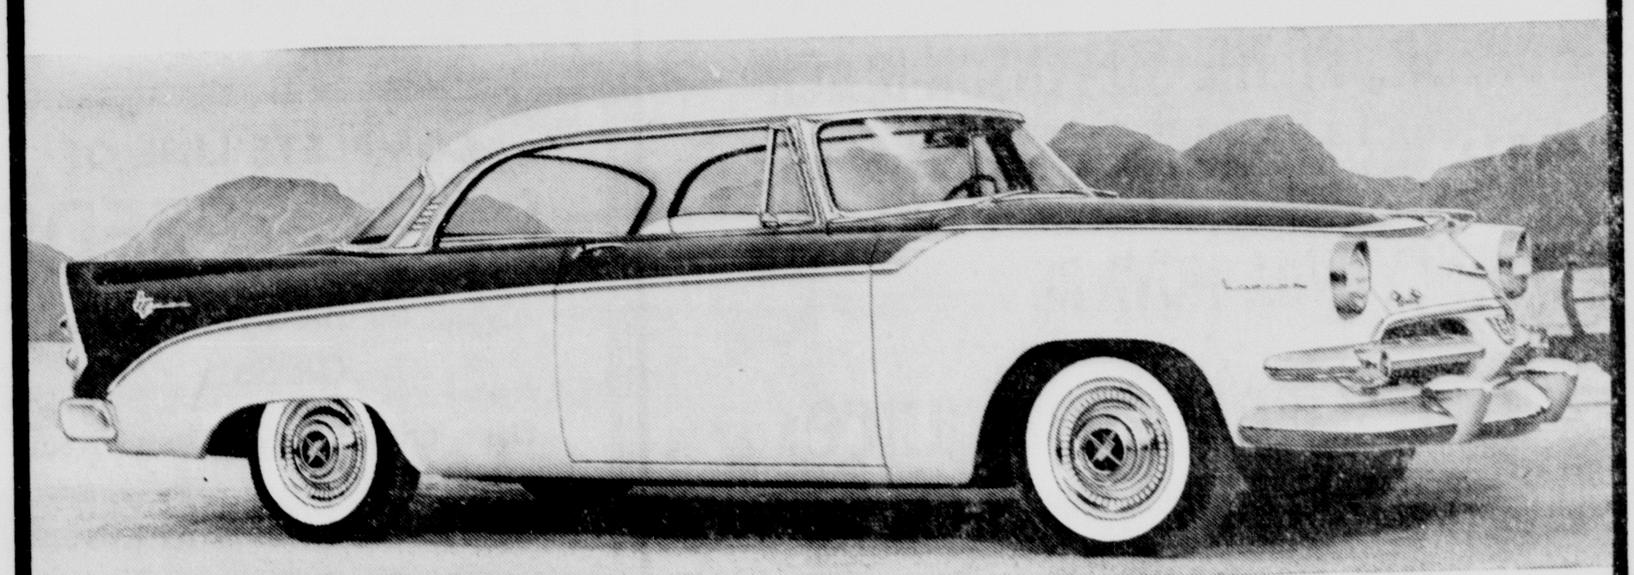
Dodge presents..."The TEXAN"



Choice of this dashing Lancer Hardtop or the big, rangy 4-Door Sedan

The Texan by Dodge!

A handsome, rugged car big as all outdoors, with the surging power of a quarter horse, sweeping lines of a gull in flight, the relaxed touch of push-button driving!

The Texan is built for Texas driving. It skims swiftly along the big broad highways, it rips over hills like a hungry cougar, it takes the bumpiest, ruttiest, sandiest road and comes back for more. Powered by the mighty engine that busted the AAA record book wide open at Bonneville Salt Flats, it gives you the same superior engineering and design that made Dodge the greatest sales-gainer in the industry in 1955.

Plenty of special features, too . . . specially designed interior trim, special paint combinations, jaunty twin exhaust pipes, and other smart touches. The Texan's name is proudly blazoned on both rear fenders. And the brave crossed flags of the Lone Star State are right up front where your fellow-Texans can admire them!

Best of all, the Texan is priced right down with the so-called "low-priced three." Yet it's big and powerful and luxurious . . . rivaling cars costing as much as a thousand dollars more! Visit your nearest Dodge Dealer now and drive the Texan!

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deepest appreciation to all the lovely people for all their kindness, food and flowers in the passing of our mother and grandmother. May the Lord's richest blessings be with all.

The Family of Mrs. Maude Wesley Arnold.

We wish to thank all the fine people who were so thoughtful and have done so many things for Gene since the accident. To those who have sent gifts, offered places for the family to stay, to eat and to those who sat up day and night with Gene whenever needed, we say thank you. May the Lord bless all of you.

The W. R. Peggram family.

We are thankful beyond measure for all of our good friends who helped us so much during our recent sadness. May we offer our humble thanks for your comfort and love.

Bibs Help Keep Mother From Being Tuckered

BY EDNA MILES

KEEPING your kiddies looking just like pictures would require your staying alert and on your feet twenty-four hours a day. It can't be done.

But you CAN keep them reasonably neat while they're making mud pies and you're whipping around the house making beds, cleaning the bathroom, doing dishes, running the vacuum and otherwise "living it up" at a fast pace.

Real aids to you for everything from mealtime to playtime are brand-new coverall bibs of plastic splashed with gay, confetti-like dots in red, blue, silver and white. These bibs have big kangaroo pockets at the front to catch spills and overflows and save both clothes and floors.

To prevent the plastic from getting stiff (as plastic bibs have been known to do in the past), the maker of these bibs has given the surface a special chiffon finish that is soft to the touch and that won't wear off.

These bibs top the entire upper part of a dress, leaving only a small portion of the skirt uncovered.

Plastic bibs for little gardeners keep the water off the "sprouts" and on the plants—where it belongs. Bibs are so treated that they stay soft to the touch.

Farm Tax Reports Due February 15

COLLEGE STATION—Farm and ranch operators should be happy to know that their income tax reports are not due until Feb. 15, 1956. The previous deadline for filing the reports was Jan. 31.

The ruling was made in 1955 but was not announced in time to affect many taxpayers, says C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

There is an exception, points out Bates. Every farm employer who owes the two per cent employer tax and the two per cent employee tax must file a return on Form 943, and pay the taxes, on or before Jan. 31, 1956.

Farm employers should file their returns on time in order to avoid the penalty which may be charged for late filing.

For the first time this year self employed farmers who net $400 or gross $800 or more annually are subject to reporting for social security benefits. The Act was amended by Congress in 1954 and applies to farm and ranch income for 1955.

Because of the possibility of retirement benefits and insurance features of the plan, farm and ranch operators should study the procedure for reporting. Each person will need a social security number before making report for benefits and paying the tax.

Information on various phases of tax reporting says Bates, may be obtained either from county extension agents or the Social Security and Internal Revenue offices.

Even if copies are available only for study, persons interested will find the reference covers the self-employment phases in some detail.

A helpful booklet, "Farmers' Tax Guide for 1955," is available in limited quantity from county extension service offices.

The White House Conference on Education ended a four-day meeting with a call for Federal aid for schools.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

A Russian Reception

The visit to Russia of the Honorable Lester Pearson, the Canadian Secretary of State for External Affairs, has been mentioned in previous newsletters. It was his official visit to the Soviet that was the occasion for a state reception to be given in his honor.

When it was learned that we would be in Moscow about the same time, invitations were extended to us. These invitations were in Russian and had to be delivered to each of us by a person who could read Russian, because none of us could have recognized our own names.

The reception took place in a very large and ornate house maintained by the Russian Government for that purpose. It was luxuriously furnished and immaculately kept.

When we entered we ascended a flight of stairs into a large hallway and were then ushered into a medium-sized room. In the center of this room stood Mr. Molotov, the Russian Foreign Minister.

He greeted each of us with a smile and a word of welcome. There was no receiving line.

After shaking hands with Mr. Molotov, we were escorted into a large reception hall which was occupied by a great number of people talking every conceivable language. They were representatives of other countries.

We were the only Americans present and very few people in the room could speak English. We were able to converse with a few from some of the embassies.

We attempted to talk to several Russians through interpreters. Some were very friendly and wanted to talk while others were very cool and obviously did not want to converse.

Soon Mr. Malenkov and several members of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet came into the reception hall through another door. Mr. Malenkov and three others conversed at length with several of us through an interpreter.

The interpreter was a young man of about 30 who spoke excellent English and did a splendid job of interpreting. Most of the conversation was with Mr. Malenkov. It was suggested that he visit Texas, and he replied that he thought there would be time for that and would like to make such a visit.

I did not catch the names of the other members who were with him and could not pronounce them if I had. I did know that Mr. Bulganin, Mr. Khrushchev and Mr. Mikoyan were not present at the reception, so I am sure it was none of them.

The members present were very gracious to us and made several references to hopes that the relationships between our two countries would be much better in the future.

The signal was given that the food was ready and that the guests were to partake of it. As it turned out there were several dining rooms in which there were a number of tables laden with all kinds of food and drink.

Our party was supposed to go into the dining room where the members of the Presidium were to eat. But, several of us got sidetracked and into another dining room where we saw firsthand evidence to confirm our conclusions that the Russians were great eaters.

The tables were so arranged as to indicate that the service was to be buffet style. However, it was a case of first come, first served. Those who got to the table first firmly implanted their feet in place and proceeded to enjoy everything in reach.

I stood by one man for about 10 minutes waiting for him to move and then decided I had better try another table. I did get a bite of a few things that were very tasty, and then was told that I was supposed to be in another dining room.

I went to the other dining room where all of the high officials of the Russian Government and official representatives of other countries were gathered.

As I started to enter the doorway, two fellows about five by five who were standing on each side of the door closed in to prevent my entering. Remembering some of my old football footwork, I side-stepped them and was inside before they knew which way I had gone.

They made no effort to eject me but did get the gap closed so that another member of our party was not able to get in. He called to me over their heads and asked how I had gotten in. Seeing his plight, I went back over to the door and said to the two guards "Let him in. He's all right."

Whereupon the two guards parted and let the other member in, much to my surprise. We then visited with representatives of the Governments of Mexico, Canada, England, Sweden and others until it was time to depart about 8 p. m.

It can be said that a Russian state reception is not much different from the same type of party in other countries, including Washington, D. C.

The Kremlin

The Kremlin is a walled area consisting of 75 acres. Its construction began in the 14th Century. The walls are flanked by green roofed watch towers, no two of which are alike. There are five roseate brick gate towers, each surmounted by spires of various designs.

It is the shape of an irregular triangle and enclosed within its walls are four large open squares, three cathedrals, seven churches, a convent, a monastery, three palaces, Senate House, Synodal buildings, the Tower of Ivan the Great and the arsenal.

It might be interesting to point out that none of the religious buildings are presently being used for that purpose. Work is going on inside several of them and they are to be used as museums.

We were in several of these buildings and visited the main palace that was used by the Czars. It was very interesting to note the living quarters.

These have been restored by the present regime and are being displayed as museum items. One particular hall was similar to a large, modern day play room. We were told that this was where the men met to discuss affairs of state.

We noticed a little square hole about two feet by two feet next to the ceiling on one of the walls. We asked about it and were told that this was where the women stayed while the men conducted the affairs of state.

They were not allowed in the room but could stick their heads through this hole and watch what was going on. I could not find out how the women of that day felt about this, but I am sure that it would not meet with the approval of the present day ladies.

ADVICE!

If she looks young, she's camouflaged.

If she looks old, she's young but dissipated.

If she looks innocent, she's deceiving you.

If she looks shocked, she's acting.

If she looks languishing, she's hungry.

If she looks sad, she's angling.

If she looks back, follow her.

WHO'S MISTAKE?

Customer: "Say, you made a mistake in that prescription you filled for my wife. Instead of quinine you used strychnine."

Clerk: "You don't say! Then you owe me 40 cents more."

GORGEOUS PACE

-and a figure you'll love

This new Buick SPECIAL 2-Door 6-Passenger Sedan delivers locally for less than some models of the well-known smaller cars. Come in and check!

If you think you can't afford a big-bodied, big-powered, big-muscled Buick like the one shown here—we'd like to set the matter straight.

If you can afford any new car, you can afford this strapping and stunning Buick SPECIAL Sedan—and no kidding.

For this Buick is tagged within a few dollars of the well-known smaller cars—and actually costs less than some models of those very same cars. The price we show here proves it.

So maybe you can understand why Buick—for two years running now—has outsold every other car in the land, except two of those well-known smaller cars.

But low price is just part of the picture.

Big reason for Buick's soaring sales sweep is that folks are finding here a lot more automobile for the money—more style boldness, more power thrill, more ride stability and more solid structure than the same dollars buy elsewhere.

Just ask yourself: wouldn't you rather go traveling with the lift and life and pace and poise of a stunning new Buick—when it's all yours at just about the price of a smaller car?

If your answer is yes, then the time is now—right now.

Drop in on us this very week—tomorrow would be fine—and we'll seat you at the wheel of the biggest and most beautiful bundle of high-powered Buick ever offered in America's low-price field.

*2-door, 6-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Any state and local taxes, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. A wide variety of extra-cost equipment and accessories available at your option.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

Whether or not his decision is overruled, William L. Pack, examiner for Federal Trade Commission may go down in history as rare example of an employee of rampant bureaucracy who showed common sense.

* * *

Acting in case of Pioneers, Inc., Oakland, California, Examiner Pack rolled back previous actions taken by FTC, Commerce Dept., and its subdivision, the Bureau of Standards, plus Post Office Dept. Background is interesting.

C. W. Harder

For many years Pioneers, Inc., headed by Jesse Ritchie, has marketed a compound said to lengthen life of an automobile accessory.

This product is used by many big firms as well as Federal agencies. Despite this, early in 1954, A. V. Astin, head of the Bureau of Standards, decided the product has no merit. FTC told Ritchie to quit advertising.

Ritchie protested on basis of his many satisfied customers. The Post Office then issued fraud charges, going so far as to confiscate the firms incoming mail.

The Senate Small Business Committee took notice of the situation. Cleve Schaeffer, head of highly respected Schaeffer Pen Company, then serving as assistant Commerce Secretary, weighed all facts, decided Astin had acted in high-handed manner, dismissed him.

A vociferous clicque of scientists raised a fuss with result Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks reinstated Astin, accepted Schaeffer's resignation.

In meantime, Senate Small Business Committee had Massachussetts Institute of Technology, recognized as nation's, if not world's, leading scientific school, test the product. MIT found merit in product.

So situation was at loggerhead. Post Office did withdraw fraud charges, but Commerce Dept., Bureau of Standards, FTC, refused to back down an inch.

However, FTC did authorize Pack to hold a recent hearing. Some 45 prominent users of the product testified it was of value. No one testified it was harmful.

It is interesting that Pack reached in principle same conclusion as the ousted Schaeffer.

In principle, Schaeffer held that when scientists disagree, as they did in this matter, there is no sound premise in establishing the opinion of a scientist as infalliable merely because he was a bureaucrat, nor in marshalling all the forces of government to enforce that opinion, any more than using government to enforce the opinions of the eminent scientists of MIT. In addition, he held that disagreeing scientific opinions regardless, if an important segment of consumers of a product believed in its merit, and if the product were not harmful, government should not interfere.

That basically was decision reached by Pack . . . a refreshing whiff of commonsense blowing through musty corridors of stalemated bureaucracy. It will be interesting to see if FTC backs up Pack, or if he will walk plank as did Schaeffer.

* * *

As for Ritchie, he is now hopefull of increasing customers to help offset an estimated half million dollar loss incurred fighting bureaucracy. But it is fortunate Congress has set up committees to protect independent business from bureaucratic depredation.

Ag Economist Sees Cost-Price Ratio Widening During 1956

COLLEGE STATION—Steers like honey. In a test conducted by Prof. J. K. Riggs of the Animal Husbandry Department and Assistant Professor Nevin Weaver of the Department of Entomology unmarketable honey proved equal to blackstrap molasses in rations for fattening high quality steers.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station research workers used honey in the concentrate mixture at a level of 15 per cent but adds that amounts up to 30 per cent should prove satisfactory.

The ration containing the honey was palatable to the steers. They relished it and during the entire feeding test there were no feed refusals.

The mixture containing honey produced about the same gain, carcass weight and carcass grade as that containing molasses. Efficiency of feed utilization also was about equal.

The extracted honey used was free from wax but contained considerable dark granular material. It was rather heavy in cool weather but when warmed, mixed readily with the other concentrates.

The honey was provided by members of the Texas Beekeepers Association.

In the test, 24 head of purebred Angus and Hereford yearling steer were used. They were divided into two groups comparable in number breed, weight and grade.

Both groups received the same ration except one lot got molasses and the other the unmarketable honey.

The research workers point out that at times considerable amounts of unmarketable honey are available and as a possible new use the test feeding was done.

Professor Riggs says this was the first time for such a test—that of fattening quality steers to a high degree of finish.

At the conclusion of the 140 day feeding test, the research workers said, "Although considered unsuitable for human consumption because of poor color, flavor or minute quantities of foreign material, such honey is an excellent source of carbohydrates and generally is not objectionable to taste."

Details of the test are given in Progress Report 1826 and is available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Calf Crop Need Protein Feeding

COLLEGE STATION—Amount of protein consumed by cows in the beef breeding herd has a strong bearing on the size of the next calf crop. Extension Animal Husbandman U. D. Thompson says research conducted at the Beltsville Research Center points up the importance of supplying supplemental protein to the cow herd.

The research showed that when only two-thirds of a cow's protein requirements are fed, a 64 per cent calf crop was produced. When the cows received enough protein to meet their requirements, the calf crop rose to 93 per cent.

Wintering cows, according to Thompson, each day need a total amount of protein equal to that provided by two and a half to three pounds of 41 per cent protein cottonseed meal or cake.

The amount of supplemental protein needed, he adds, will depend upon the protein content of the roughages or pasture forage available. But generally, feeding the protein supplement at a rate of two pounds per head per day will supply the requirements for the beef cow herd.

Caballero Explains Enameling as Art

A description of enameling as an expressive art will be given Sunday afternoon by Dr. Emilio Caballero, art department head, in the third of a special programs series at West Texas State College.

The program is open to the public and will be held at 4 p. m. in the Branding Iron Theatre. A coffee hour follows the program.

Dr. Caballero, who became head of the WT department in September, has done extensive experimentation with enameling on metal, tile and glass. He has spoken before a number of groups throughout the Panhandle and South Plains on the art medium.

A graduate of WT and Columbia University, Dr. Caballero joined the WT faculty in 1949 after serving as special art teacher at Horace Mann Junior High School in Amarillo for four years.

While studying at Columbia, he was art consultant at the Agnes Russell School. He is a member of the Texas Water Color Society, and has exhibited his work throughout the nation.

Mrs. Jessie Rusk of Canyon and Mr. and Mrs. James Wildy and Wynette of Hereford returned Sunday after spending the Christmas holidays in Los Angeles, Calif.

Eloyce Money returned to college in Lincoln, Neb., after spending the holidays at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Money.

Mr. and Mrs. Edel Money of Boulder, Colo., spent several of the holidays with his parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Money and Eloyce.

County HD Council Has First Meeting

The Randall County Home Demonstration Council met Tuesday in the Farm Bureau Building with Mrs. E. W. Miller of Happy presiding.

Roll call was answered by each club president introducing herself and council representatives from her club. Nine clubs were represented.

The new THDA chairman, Mrs. Wise, was introduced. Mrs. Emil Olson, the secretary, read the standing rules of the council, which were approved.

Mrs. Mona Hildreth, Home Demonstration Agent, made a report, and requested that all clubs participate in the March of Dimes drive beginning this month.

Mrs. Hildreth said windbreak trees can be ordered through her office for $1.50 a hundred. Elm, cedar and pine trees are available.

Seventeen persons attended the council meeting.

We had Sunday School and BTU in the evening. We voted to have a test sermon Sunday as a Wayland student from Rising Star has applied for the pastorate of our church.

DONE ENOUGH

Elmer, age 13, was puzzled over the girl problem and discussed it with his pal Joe.

"I've walked to school with her three times," he told Joe, "and carried her books. I bought her an ice cream soda twice. Now, do you think I ought to kiss her?"

"Naw, you don't need to," Joe decided after a moment of deep thought. "You have done enough for that girl already."

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Warwick visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Winkelman in Amarillo Sunday afternoon.

Carole Ann Cummings of Amarillo spent Friday and Saturday visiting in the A. C. Haley Jr. home.

BELLAH SUPER MARKET
Your Friendly Super Market

Around the Town . .

By DOVIE KEENE

Christmas had gone, the inevitable had come. If ever misery loved company it was now. No escape. Doomed to a motley mass of miscellaneous. That was it, nothing more. Over the counter, under the counter, around the counter and naughty, naughty, mustn't forget behind the counter.

From 8 to 6 o'clock the march was on. At 8 pick up artillery of pencil, paper and Kleenex for unexpected showers of dust, and then bull the neck and begin tearing up nicely arranged counters, actually executing the peace and serenity of business order and system.

Executors, examiners these marchers are probed on by the teasing provacative of the question, "Um, wonder what's in that mess?" "What IS that mess?" or better still, "Look fellows, what the creditors left!"

All around the song resounds. One, two, three, four, five, six . . . 1002, 1003 . . . 1004 with a syncopated off beat of "May I disturb you for a moment?" Yeah sure. One, two, three, four, five . . .

Oh, some get a big charge of the day or days as they may be, especially when one discovers with hopefully searching fingers the light socket that wasn't there. Big charge.

And then it happens—tragedy of tragedy. That precious piece of artillery, the paper with notes of one, two, three is gone. Was it swept up with those other little uncovered bits of paper? Is it under a shelf, or in one of those 500 boxes? Symptom of panic appears in what was always such a calm character as a ravaging pursuit of the lost takes place. And well, what do you know? Two sweet, angelic feet with satanic toenails were protecting it.

But the picture is not all blackness. There are rays of hope. Blessed rays of hope. When the Brazilians whipped up a mess of coffee beans and sent it USA way, small notion did they have of what mitigating salve they were sending. A perfect excuse, the coffee break, a peachy opportunity to just sit and slip away from bedlam.

Before you know it, it's all over. Time has ticked away the terrible minutes, and a thankful crew passes the buck. It's now the big boss's baby. He can now sweat and groan as that little baby grows into an overgrown ogre, and the more he cuddles and coos the louder it growls.

It's the inevitable, the headless horseman that rides through every pre-New Year time. And what do you call it? O course, it's inventory!

(This little sage was written with the hope that it might bring a little sunshine into the black cloud plaguing those on the inventory end of the line and to say good luck to you faced with the totals).

From Dr. Hattie Anderson, professor of history at WTSC, comes a letter from Mrs. T. V. Reeves who is continuing her tour of the Far East aboard the Cingalese Prince.

Mrs. Reeves writes, "If the rain that is coming down on our deck were falling in the Panhandle, the papers of the next morning would declare it a million dollar rain, and the wheat crop assured! But here it is just another rain. How I have enjoyed all the different kinds of weather at seas. We have been very fortunate in that we have had very few rains when we have been ashore, though there have been a good many clouds. Clouds are welcome for they tempered the heat in Saigon and Singapore which are the two places where the heat was most intense. Otherwise the temperatures have been pleasant. In Japan it was wool-suit temperature, and in Hong Kong (two weeks) it was never hot.

The names in the news from the Far East are going to mean much more to me from now on. Everywhere we have been I have read as many newspapers as time would allow me to get. I have regretted that I could not read those in French, Chinese and Malayan, which of course are much more numerous than those in English.

Besides papers, I have read all the books in the ship's library that bear on the regions we have visited; and when in port I have talked with everybody who could speak even a little English. I have spent very little time shopping, but have gone to native markets and have sat around in banks; have visited three or four schools.

Of all the places we have visited, Saigon was the one that made me sick at heart. It was so plainly without preparation to be free men or strength to protect themselves against others who will put them in bondage. Saigon is no longer "The Paris of The East."

One thing seems clear to me everywhere, and that is that the day of white supremacy in this part of the world is over. I do not feel that the colonial policies of the last century and a half are to blame because they were policies consistent with the ties, but they show that any policy which exploits a country and does not develop its people is going to lead to a tragic end—and that is the lesson the East should be teaching us.

With Thanksgiving over, and Christmas only days away, I am thinking much of home. On Christmas I shall be in the Mediterranean and by New Year's in the Atlantic and by February 10 in Los Angeles. I intend now to stay for a little time on the West Coast, possibly going up to Oregon and Washington, for I have no idea when another trip will be possible. It will be good to be home.

In conclusion Mrs. Reeves tells of the English tonner's cargo which includes 4000 long tons of sugar, 8000 tons of rubber, 2000 tons of tin and miscellaneous cargo. She said that at Colombo they were to pick up tea and spices.

In February, a Canyon High School student, Beverly Henson, will sing as one of eight alto members of an all-state choir scheduled to perform in Dallas.

Beverly, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Henson, was selected recently in tryouts at Canyon High School. Judges for Region II were Royal Brantley of WTSC and Lloyd Patten of Amarillo College. Each region sends 32 choir members to the convention of the Texas State Music Educators Feb. 8-11 in Dallas, where they will make up a choir to perform during the session.

Beverly, a 15-year-old sophomore, is a member of the school choir directed by Miss Ada V. Clark. She also participates in school ensemble work and is a member of a sextet known as the Chapel Belles at the First Baptist Church. She is a member of the Future Homemakers of America.

In addition, Joy Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gray, was chosen as analternate second soprano from Region II and Theresa Mickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Mickey, was named alternate for Beverly.

In the January edition of Woman's Home Companion are listed the six most successful women of 1955 chosen by the editors of that magazine. Using this idea we chose four among the outstanding women of the community in 1955.

One of these is Mary Moss Richardson. In November of 1955, the appointment of Miss Richardson as local representative for the Governor's Committee for Refugee Relief Program was announced by John H. Winters, committee chairman. She is now serving on behalf of the state committee in Randall County.

She is a long standing resident of Canyon and at one time was a professor of English at WTSC. Miss Richardson is one of the most beloved people of this community and retains an interest and love for the affairs and denizens of this part of the country.

Another individual that can be added to the list of those with outstanding accomplishments for 1955 is Mrs. John Williams. She received honorable mention in the National Crochet Contest for a delicate linen tablecloth which also captured the first place award in the Tri-State Fair and the State Fair.

Mrs. Williams, a woman of varied interests, has over 45 award ribbons in contests of cooking, sewing, handwork and soapmaking. She and her husband moved to Canyon in 1949, and he is working with the maintenance department of WTSC.

During 1955, Mrs. R. A. Neblett spent hours of diligent effort serving as president of the Canyon Community Concert Association. Salesman results showed over 600 memberships sold and entertainment and education brought to the community not usually available.

Wife of two children, Dorothy and Charles, Mrs. Neblett is the wife of Dr. R. A. Neblett. Besides homemaker and mother, she is active in Presbyterian Church work and club and committee activities.

And fourth among outstanding women of Canyon is Mrs. Lee Foster who was one of three women invited to appear on a meeting of the women leaders of the Presbyterian Church USA with the national executive committee of the Presbyterian women's organization.

Mrs. Foster is president of the Women's Amarillo Presbytery, and in 1955 had the honor of being organist and pianist for the training leadership conference for Presbyterian women in Greeley, Colo. In 1955 she received 15 invitations to review books. Mrs. Foster has one daughter, Sally.

"Women have a smile for every joy, a tear for every sorrow, a consolation for every grief, an excuse for every fault, a praise for every misfortune and encouragement for every hope." —St. Foix

GENEROUS!

Wife — I dreamed last night that you were the most generous man in the world and had given me a $100 bill to buy some new dresses. Surely you wouldn't do anything to alter that opinion?

Husband — Certainly not; just to show you I'm as generous as you dreamed I am, you can keep that hundred.

One day last week we were going downtown in an awful hurry. The reason we hurried was because we've made a game of "trying to make it" in minimum time.

We aren't sure why other folks were hurrying, but it was probably for an equally stupid reason. Anyway, we came to a blind intersection — in a 20-mile zone — at about 30 miles an hour. There was no signal light or stop sign, so we merely slowed down to make a left-hand turn.

Another busy fellow, making about 30 knots from the right into the same intersection, was planning to turn left also. Right on his rear bumper a third driver, in a terrific hurry, contributed to the confusion.

He saw his interference turning left, and he was going straight ahead. So he actually sped up.

Now if we had all been on a desert, or a freeway, everything would have been fine. But when our car appeared from behind parked cars, it gummed things up, and we heard the sound of bumper on fender as we all three came to a dead stop.

That time, only one bent fender resulted.

We're usually sure the near-misses at street corners and highway intersections are the other fellow's fault. But this time, as is often the case, all three drivers were wrong-doers.

With 38,000 traffic deaths predicted this year, we figure the percentages are harder to beat than they've ever been. And since we do more than our share of the per capita driving, we'd best plan to drive carefully if we expect to come out even.

Our goal for 1956, then, is more a hope than a resolution. One doesn't RESOLVE not to kill or get killed in a traffic accident. One just hopes — and tries.

Helen Carr Weds Walter Meyer In Recent Candlelight Ceremony

The First Presbyterian Church of Brownfield was the scene Dec. 26 for the marriage of Helen Benita Carr, daughter of Mrs. Carr and the late H. T. Carr Sr., and Walter Alvin Meyer of Brownfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Meyer of Uvalde.

The Rev. T. L. Pond officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Candles lighted the altar and aisles which were decorated with palms and white gladiolas. A white kneeling bench was placed in front of the altar.

Traditional wedding marches were played by the organist, Leonard Ellington, and soloist, Mrs. Grady Goodpasture sang "I Am Thine," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Lighting the candles, Louise Bralley of Brownfield and Sue Whitson of Shamrock preceded the bridesmaids, Cherie Fent of Olton, Mrs. Clifford Niles of Brownfield and Frances Jones of Flomot.

Flower girls were Jo Anne Yandell and Donna Sue Yandell, cousins of the bride from Sweetwater.

These attendants wore blue velveteen dresses styled with scoop necklines, fitted bodices and pleated skirts.

Matron-of-honor, Mrs. Don Standley, sister of the bride from Canyon, wore a medium blue velveteen dress styled as above and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Best man was R. T. Wilson of Brownfield and groomsmen were Harold Wilson of Brownfield, Werner Meyer of Uvalde, brother of the bridegroom, and Clifford Niles, Brownfield.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Don E. Standley. Her dress was of Chantilly lace over white satin fashioned with a fitted bodice topped with a sweetheart yoke and ending in long pointed sleeves. The wedding gown skirt was of tulle over white satin extending to a train.

Carrying out the tradition, the bride borrowed a white Bible belonging to her brother, H. T. Carr Jr. A seed pearl tiara and lace and illusion veil completed her attire.

Mrs. Carr, mother of the bride, wore a brown and beige street length dress with beige and brown accessories and a yellow carnation corsage.

Mother of the bridegroom wore a navy street length dress with white and navy accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception in the church. The bride's table was laid with a white cutwork cloth, blue and white tiered cake and candles.

Serving the cake and punch were Mrs. Delwin Webb and Mrs. R. T. Wilson. Miss Bralley presided at the guest book.

For the wedding trip to Monterrey, Mexico, the bride traveled in a beige silk shantung suit, with coffee colored and avocado accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Meyer attended Friona High School and is a 1954 graduate of West Texas State College. While at WTSC she was secretary of Delta Zeta Chi, vice president of Inter-Club Council and member of Buffalo Gals, FTA and Buffalo Masquers. At present she retains membership in ESA and AAUW.

The bridegroom graduated from Texas Tech in 1952 and attended high school in Knippa, Texas.

The couple is teaching in Brownfield school system and will be at home after January in Brownfield.
